

The Sixth Annual Charles K. “Chuck” Nelson Student Paper Contest 2018

For many years APICS has sponsored the Fogarty Student Paper Contest through the Education and Research Foundation. In 2008 the E&R Foundation and APICS discontinued the program.

The Terra Grande District (Region VI) and the Heartland District (Region V) have worked together to sponsor The Charles K. “Chuck” Nelson Student Paper Contest District competition. As many of you know, Chuck Nelson was a great leader in APICS and especially in the Terra Grande District prior to his passing away in 2007.

Below are the rules, prizes and details of the contest. The deadline for submissions is April 15, 2018

Prizes of $1000 and $500 will be awarded for first and second place for both Undergraduate and Graduate papers.

Papers should be submitted to Roger Harris at email rharris@msstech.com no later than April 15, 2018.

Charles K. “Chuck” Nelson Student Paper Competition Guidelines

I. ELIGIBILITY

An eligible paper must be

1. The original work of one or more authors who submit a single paper to one local APICS Terra Grande and/or Heartland District chapter
2. Relevant only to the field of Operations Management/Supply Chain Management
3. Written at any time during the school year and/or developed as part of normal class assignments*
4. Of no required length, but papers typically range between 10 and 20 pages
5. Conform to style guidelines required by the author’s institution.

Theses or dissertations are not eligible for submission.*

II. PAPER CLASSIFICATIONS

Papers are evaluated in one of two classifications, based on the author’s education level as of April 15 of the academic year.

- Graduate students either full-time or part-time
- Undergraduate students either full-time or part-time and not involved in graduate course work

Guidelines for Multiple Authors

Papers may have more than one author. The graduate category takes precedence over the undergraduate category if two or more students who are not in the same classification co-write a submission.

For example, a paper by two graduate students and an undergraduate student will be evaluated in the graduate category.

III. SUBMISSION GUIDELINES Submissions not following this section will be disqualified

- All submissions must be electronic via email. The name of the file for the papers should have the title of the paper and the primary author’s last name.
- Each entry should only be submitted once
- All submissions must have a title page with title and authors listed as part of the single document.

- All submissions must have the Student Paper Submission form as the first page in the same document as the title page and paper.
- All submission file names should only contain the primary author's last name-title of the paper

IV. MANUSCRIPT GUIDELINES

The manuscript must be

- Electronically Submitted

A. Paper Style

1. Title Page (page 1)

On the first page of the manuscript include in initial capital and lowercase letters

- the paper title
- all authors' names
- permanent address of contact author
- permanent telephone number of contact author
- university affiliation
- a short statement indicating the authors' present position, highest degree, and the institution granting that degree
- the name of the supporting local APICS chapter
- the authors' APICS membership ID number (if applicable)
- the submission classification, Grad or Undrgrad

No reference to the authors' names, institutions, or APICS chapter/district affiliations should appear anywhere else in the paper.

2. Abstract Page (page 2)

Repeat the title and include an abstract of no more than 50 words.

3. Manuscript Text

Begin the text on page 3 after submission form and title page following the abstract.

B. Headings

Use main headings to designate the major sections of the manuscript. Most papers have three or four main headings. Initial headings, such as INTRODUCTION, are unnecessary. Center main headings on the page in all capital letters.

Examples:

MAIN HEADING

Secondary Heading

Keep secondary headings flush to the left margin, capitalizing only the initial letters.

Paragraph Headings

The paragraph (third-order) headings are typed with a standard paragraph indentation and capitalized initial letters. The paragraph heading should be underlined.

C. Tables

Tables should be typed, double-spaced, and included in the body of the manuscript. At the top of each table page, center the word "TABLE" (capital letters) and the respective number (Arabic numerals) of the table.

Center the table title directly under the table number, using initial capital and lowercase letters.

Number the tables consecutively from the beginning to the end of the paper.

D. Figures

When submitting graphs, charts, and other figures with the paper, use figures only where they contribute substantially to the reader's understanding of the text.

In preparing figures allow for a size reduction in spacing and lettering (as much as 50 percent). Submit original artwork for figures in the body of the manuscript and on a separate electronic file. Figures should be consecutively numbered with Arabic numerals. Present each figure with the word "FIGURE" and its respective number centered followed by a short, identifying title in capital and lowercase letters centered underneath.

E. Bibliography

A list of references cited in the text, commonly known as a bibliography, must be included on separate pages at the end of the paper and numbered and alphabetized by authors' last names. Center the word "REFERENCES" at the top of the page. The references must conform to the requirements of the author's college or university.

The style should be referenced under the REFERENCES title.

F. Annotations

Cite the references throughout the text by enclosing the appropriate reference number(s) in parentheses.

Example

Several studies (3, 7, 10) support this conclusion.

Page numbers are included in the citation only to indicate the source of a direct quotation.

Example

Adams has said, "writing a book is a long and arduous task." (1, p. 3)

Entries for books or periodicals should conform to the style of the author's institution.

G. Footnotes

Footnotes are not used for citing references. Rather, they should be used for parenthetical discussion of material that is pertinent to the text.

1. A general footnote relates to the table as a whole and is designated by the word Note followed by a colon.

2. A specific footnote refers to a table, column, or individual item and is designated by a superscript lowercase letter (a, b, c, etc.) placed by the head of the table or the column to which it refers and corresponding to the footnote for each separate table.

3. The third type of footnote indicates the probability level of tests of significance. Asterisks correspond to the value in the table and the probability level noted at the foot of the table. One asterisk is used for the lowest probability level, two for the next higher, and so on (* $p < .05$,  $p < .01$, etc.).
